Kogal (ã,³ã,®ãf£ãf«, kogyaru) is a Japanese fashion culture that involves schoolgirls wearing an outfit based on their uniform, but with very short skirts. The short skirts are worn irrespective of the season. The girls may also wear loose socks and scarves, and have dyed hair. The word "kogal" is anglicized from kogyaru, a contraction of kÅ•kÅ•sei gyaru (high school gal).

As I continue to settle into a queer identity, certain words and their meanings seem to do the exact opposite of settling in. They don't sit still. I've noticed that every time a friend of mine uses the word "girl friend" to refer to a female friend, I inwardly cringe and get that weird twitch in my right eye that makes me look like I'm about two seconds from setting something on fire.

Girlfriend versus Girl Friend: How Queer Identity Changes

Long hair is a hairstyle where the head hair is allowed to grow to a considerable length. Exactly what constitutes long hair can change from culture to culture, or even within cultures. For example, a woman with chin-length hair in some cultures may be said to have short hair, while a man with the same length of hair in some of the same cultures would be said to have long hair.
